NABIP Hosts 93rd Annual Convention in New Orleans, Louisiana

Healthcare benefits and insurance professionals gather in person to learn, develop and network

(New Orleans, La.) -- The National Association of Benefits and Insurance Professionals (NABIP) is hosting its 93rd Annual Convention this week in New Orleans, Louisiana. This premier industry event focuses on training health insurance professionals on how to adapt to the ever-changing regulations of the healthcare industry while providing opportunities for networking and professional development.

"Our theme, 'Synergy,' underscores a series of discussions on the importance of benefit professionals working together to achieve greater levels of success," said NABIP CEO Janet Trautwein. "This year's convention equips agents and brokers with the tools they need to continue serving their clients to the best of their ability. To that end, the convention features a collection of fantastic speakers, from leaders in the health insurance industry to groundbreaking entrepreneurs and best-selling authors. We want this message to help our attendees feel empowered and uplifted as they navigate new challenges in the healthcare space."

The convention's 20 breakout sessions cover a range of topics, such as key health policy issues like Medicare Advantage and telehealth, debates around reference-based pricing, professional guidance on mergers and acquisitions, and technology trends. In addition to these panels and presentations, the convention includes a NABIP Marketplace expo that showcases innovative new products and services that can provide value to any health insurance professional.
