NAHU Promotes Bipartisan Health Care Reform Efforts

(Arlington, VA) – Janet Trautwein, CEO of the National Association of Health Underwriters (NAHU), made the following statement today in response to the election of Scott Brown to fill the late Senator Ted Kennedy's Massachusetts Senate seat.

“We have long advocated for members of Congress to work together in a bipartisan fashion to develop an affordable and responsible means of achieving the needed reforms to our nation's health care delivery system, and the election of Scott Brown to the Senate brings our nation one step closer to that goal. The people of Massachusetts have voiced their opinion with the current direction of the national debate and used the electoral process to ensure their concerns will be addressed. We hope Senator-elect Brown will use this opportunity to promote better options for health insurance that will not risk our nation's financial security nor an individual's access to quality health care.”

NAHU represents more than 100,000 professional health insurance agents and brokers who provide insurance for millions of Americans. For more information, please contact Kelly Loussedes, vice president of public relations at 703-276-3835 or kloussedes@nahu.org.
